(Revised 19 September)

(although here we naturally have less contact) in such plans as those of Headquarters, EUCOM. It will take considerable skill to ride the two sometimes seemingly competitive chariots of departmental and Community systems development.

Machine Translation

Research and development in machine translation continued under Government sponsorship: National Science Foundation, the Air Force, CIA, Army, and Navy. The Interagency Committee on Machine Translation Research, chaired by the National Science Foundation, has continued its role of facilitating the exchange of information in this area, and CODIB recently endorsed a policy statement "that greater emphasis be placed on a coordinated program of directed research responsive to the priority needs of the Government. . . ." The CODIB consensus is that no approach has yet gained general acceptance for support on an operational basis.*

Outlook

CODIB's FY 63 program is essentially that of SCIPS, coupled with the myriad ad hoc problems that will arise. In spite of painfully slow progress in assembling the SCIPS staff, the outlook for considerable positive gain, not only in information processing itself, but among production offices, operational components and policy levels, remains good. The keystone to its success is a duality: its staff and the support given it. The field of information processing involves, besides high-priced computer systems whose very dollar values command senior level attention, details such as report formatting, technical problems of microphotography of poor quality source documents, requests for common numbering systems for field reports - all of which, to the non-documentalist are mundane-sounding or picayune. This is understandable; but attention to these details can make or break the system designed to support a commander, the intelligence analyst, or policy planner. It is anticipated that the USIB and the various senior departmental levels will continue their support of the SCIPS effort and this CODIB philosophy.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE UNITED STATES INTELLIGENCE BOARD

SUBJECT: Fourth Annual Report of the Committee on Documentation

1. The attached Fourth Annual Report of the Committee on Documentation is forwarded herewith for the information of Intelligence Board members.

2. It is noted that on 3 August, subsequent to preparation and coordination of the report by CODIB, a policy statement on machine language preparation for index and reference collections, referred to on page 6 of the Report, was approved by USIB and issued as USIB-D-39.5/15.

3. This Report will not be placed on the agenda of a Board meeting unless, prior to the close of business, 31 August, the Secretariat is requested by a Board member to so do.

UNITED STATES INTELLIGENCE BOARD
COMMITTEE ON DOCUMENTATION

Fourth Annual Report

Authorization

The USIB Committee on Documentation (CODIB) operates under DCID 1/4 (New Series) dated 26 June 1959. The Coordination Staff in its report to the DCI on the USIB Committee structure (USIB-D-27.1/18, 31 May 1962) recommended that:

"The Committee on Documentation should be retained since it supports USIB with respect to the coordination of important, complex, accelerating programs necessarily conducted by most USIB agencies and influenced by similar programs in progress in many non-USIB agencies. Moreover, it directly supports USIB in carrying out approved JSG Recommendation No. 40 relating to automatic data processing systems."

Scope

This report covers CODIB activities during fiscal year 1962 in promoting the best use of available information of intelligence value. Following the previous years' pattern, the main report deals with activities and problems of general concern or interest. A list of CODIB documents issued during the year is attached as Appendix "A"; Appendix "B" lists current members. Individual member agencies' developments in information processing are reflected in Appendix "C", to be distributed separately as a supplement to this report.

Activities

CODIB held nine formal meetings and issued 35 staff papers during the year. Its extant sub-groups now include one permanent Subcommittee (on classification) and two Working Groups (on remote systems input and emergency planning); Working Groups on common information report and name check formats were dissolved, these subjects being referred to the Staff for the Community Information Processing Study (SCIPS). Briefings or demonstrations given numbered 15, including field trips to the Air Force's Foreign Technology Division (AFSC/FTD) and its contractor organization at Battelle Memorial Institute in Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, respectively; to the Aeronautical Chart and Information Center (ACIC) in St. Louis; to the RCA plant in Princeton, New Jersey, for an Army/ACSI-MATIC briefing; and locally to the Army Map Service, the Naval Security Station (on the equipment emanations problem), and to NSA [redacted]. In addition, presentations were heard on CIA's projects WALNUT and [redacted] on CODIB-related activities of the
